2. [REDACTED] has been given the names of the twelve publications to which you subscribed. He was especially pleased that you were able to order the Bulgarian military paper NARODNA VOYSKA, since, he said, FDD has experienced particular difficulty in acquiring such papers. His records show that the Hungarian publications GEPALLOMAS and A KERESZT are the two which were added to the list of fourteen [REDACTED] received before he left Washington.

3. The Bulgarian paper VUNCHNA TURGOVIYA was included on my original list of available publications on the basis of information obtained from [REDACTED]. Evidently they erred in saying they could get it. The Communist-publishing house "Globus" is another possible source, but [REDACTED] said they could get anything "Globus" could and a check seemed to substantiate this.

5. I will be glad to answer any further questions you may have about my original list or to contact [REDACTED] to help absolve problems which arise.
